

Growing cress

Birch class decided to experiment with growing cress as part of their science work. They planted cress using cotton wool, a paper cup and water. Half of the class placed their cress on the windowsill and half place it in a storage cupboard. In a week the class will measure how much the cress has grown.....so keep your eyes peeled for updated photos!

