

Science

Birch and Cherry class were introduced to their new science topic- Light and sound. They began experimenting with different sounds and looking at different lights. They came together collaboratively to predict where light comes from, what happens to sound and many other scientific questions all about light and sound.

